Gone are the days of adding a kilo of white sugar to your beer kit. This will give you a cidery/acidic after taste and will taste like the awful homebrew of days gone by! Don't try and create the cheapest beer possible, create a beer better than what you can buy from the bottle shop.

The name of the game is to experiment around by adding some malt, hops, honey, grains, dry enzymes etc to your kit beer. You will create some of the best beers you'll ever drink.
